

SHORT SESSION BEGINS MONDAY

Last Half of the Fifty-Seventh Congress Will Convened at His Office.

NO CUT AND DRY PROGRAM

President's Message Will Recommend Anti-Trust Legislation—Change in the Tariff Not Probable.

(By James P. Hornaday, Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, November 29.—The second session of the Fifty-seventh Congress will begin at noon Monday. As the session begins at noon, the program is not a cut and dry one.

Message Deals with Trust Problem. A joint committee of the President of the United States and the Senate is in session and ready to receive any communication from him, ought to be ready to go to the White House by 1 o'clock.

The President's message was completed several days ago. Most of the advance information about the contents of a message by the President comes through members of the Cabinet. It is always read to them for criticism, and of late years some of them are always willing to furnish a general idea of the contents of the document. This year's advance information is to the effect that the President has made the subject of trusts his leader. This conclusion could easily have been reached in the absence of any definite information, for the reason that in every speech the President has made since the last session of Congress he has talked of the trusts.

In all his talks with Senators and Representatives during the last session, the President has indicated that he is exceedingly anxious for the legislative body to undertake anti-trust legislation at the coming session. In addition to discussing the question of trusts at the last session, the President has made it a point to discuss the subject of reciprocity with Cuba. The message will be considerably shorter than the one the President sent in last December.

Within the last few weeks there has been a good deal of talk about a legislative program being arranged, but as usual the season will begin without any understanding among the leaders as to what is to be done.

It is evident that many bills to regulate trusts will be offered. Whenever the President gets out that the administration will like to have something done along a certain line there are always plenty of members of Congress ready to come to the front. Presumably Senator Cullom, of Illinois, will offer the administration anti-trust bill, but it has not yet been turned out.

The Senator says his bill was not prepared by Attorney-General Knox. The prevailing opinion here is that there will not be any anti-trust legislation at the coming session. If the subject is allowed to drag, with the result that it is accomplished, the President, it is believed, will call the Fifty-eighth Congress in special session next spring.

Senator Cullom outlined the situation on the trust question when he said: "There is going to be a lot of shouting at the trusts at this session, but I do not think anybody will hit the bullseye. It looks, too, as if there will be a great deal of talk outside the hall, but the House passed during the last session, may be taken up by the Senate. Organized labor is preparing to urge action on the eight-hour day bill, and the same influence goes to secure favorable action on the anti-injunction bill, but the anti-trust legislation has the situation in hand then."

In the informal discussion among Senators and Representatives as to what ought to be done during the session, it is thought to be an addition to passing the supply bill, the bill to establish a department of commerce takes first place. The prospect seems to be good for action by the House on this measure.

Since the arrival of many of the Congressmen agitation in favor of passing the bill dealing with anarchy has been revived. The general bill restricting immigration, which the House passed during the last session, may be taken up by the Senate. Organized labor is preparing to urge action on the eight-hour day bill, and the same influence goes to secure favorable action on the anti-injunction bill, but the anti-trust legislation has the situation in hand then."

The administration is still without information as to what Cuba proposes to do on the reciprocity treaty, but General Bliss, the special commissioner, is expected back in a week or ten days, and it is hoped and believed that the treaty will be ready for the Senate by the first week in January.

Few subjects of local interest in Indiana will come before this session. The State's delegation was successful in "whipping off the slate" at the last session. If the sale of the Indianapolis Arsenal grounds and the purchase of an army post site is consummated, in time there may be a request for an appropriation for the improvement of the post grounds. The army supply bill is usually one of the last to be passed. No additional public building bills for the State are likely to be passed at this session.

VENEZUELA TO PAY UP.
Great Britain and Germany May Not Send Warships.

LONDON, November 29.—Views have been taken in London with a view to satisfying all the financial and diplomatic claims by foreign powers and bondholders against Venezuela. If this action meets with approval, Germany and Great Britain will have no cause to take the vigorous steps now contemplated. The gist of the plan will be made known to the United States Government. The medium of such communication is one of the most important Anglo-American bankers. Venezuela's propositions were mentioned to Ambassador Choate, but pending the result of the direct representation at Washington no action will be taken by the United States.

RUMPUSS IN THE REICHSTAG.

Socialists Call Names and Session Is Suspended.

BERLIN, November 29.—The Reichstag was the scene of an uproar yesterday which greatly shocked the conservative members. Vice-President Buesing resorted to a suspension of the sitting, a measure without precedent in the Reichstag.

The house was discussing the motion of Baron von Kardorff, representing the majority parties, to vote the second reading of the tariff bill as a whole without a paragraph discussion as contemplated by the rules. The minority was indignant.

Dr. Bachem declared that the moderate radicals were doing his party's service for the Socialists, adding: "If you only knew what has recently been said about this alliance." Herr Bachem left the sentence unfinished and the Socialists shouted, "Out with it. Name your man."

Several Socialists rushed up the steps toward the Speaker's desk, shouting and gesticulating violently. Herr Gathen, Radical, standing at the top of the steps of the tribune, tried to keep the Socialists back, but was hurled down the stairs.

The Socialist member Reibshaus renewed the demand that Herr Bachem complete his sentence. The Socialist party again stormed the president's tribune, wildly shouting. Some addressed Herr Bachem as "You rascal! You dog!"

Vice-President Buesing, finding himself powerless in the howling cyclone, suspended the session.

SOFT COAL IS ADVANCED.

Exchange Puts Up the Price—Anthracite Unchanged.

The Coal Exchange has made a few changes in the price of coal. It did not make the advance in anthracite that members were threatening, however. The publicity given the plans of the association dealers to make a $2 advance in this coal, when they had not received notice from the operators that any advance had been made at the mines, and the fact that a grand jury investigation is still hanging over the heads of members of the exchange, is believed to have induced the exchange to hold back the radicals who favored the advance.

The exchange put up the price of Jackson and Brazil block coals 25 cents a ton. Sullivan and Greene county coal was reduced 25 cents. The exchange claims the changes were due to changes at the mines. Prices now are: Anthracite, $8; Pocahontas, $5; Brazil block, $4.25; Greene county, $4.

CELEBRATED A WEDDING.

But Martinsville People Thought a Boiler Exploded.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)
MARTINSVILLE, Ind., November 29.—A loud, terrific noise, as if a boiler had exploded in a factory, started Martinsville last evening, and for some time efforts were made to locate it. Telephone messages to Mahanville and Morgantown failed to locate it, but later a young man named Cramer came from his home, three miles south of here, and explained the cause of the noise. His brother, Will C. Cramer, and Miss Kate Helton, of Mahanville, were married Wednesday night, and another brother celebrated the event by exploding dynamite in the road near their home.

KENTUCKY DECISION.

Court of Appeals Decides Glove Contests Can Not Be Enjoined.

LOUISVILLE, November 29.—Judge Sterling B. Toney, of the Circuit Court of Appeals, handed down a decision to-day in effect that glove contests in Kentucky can not be enjoined.

The decision has a bearing on the Corbett-McGovern glove contest, which was called off here some weeks ago. The court says the remedy is at common law and is a matter for criminal process.

WHIPPED BY A MOB SIXTEEN YEARS AGO

John Foster, of Harrison County, Has Since Been Confined to His Bed.

REGRETS OF THE WHITECAPS

Through His Years of Suffering Foster Has Had Aid from a Secret Source.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)
CORDON, Ind., November 29.—John Foster, of Heth township, this county, is said to be in a critical condition the result of injuries from a whitecapping sixteen years ago. When Foster was assaulted this county was overrun with whitecaps, who took the law in their own hands and whipped men on slightest provocation.

Foster was taken from his home one night by a band of masked men, tied to a stake, and received an unmerciful beating with switches, on the charge that he had been stealing. At that time Foster was a physical giant, and he fought the whitecaps with the vim of a tiger.

He had had warning that the mob was going to his house, and he kept an ax in his room. When the whitecaps broke down the door of his home and rushed into his room, Foster was seized before he could get to the ax. With empty hands he fought the mob and was exhausted before the switching began.

He was so completely prostrated by the lashing that he has not been able to stand alone since, but has laid on his back in his bed, his legs jerking almost constantly.

It seems that the whitecaps regret their assault on Foster. He has often received aid in the form of provisions and clothing from a secret source, and it is supposed that the contributions have come from some of the members of the band who switched him without mercy.

GERMANY'S FOREIGN TRADE.

Fleet Society Says It Must Be Extended and Protected.

BERLIN, November 29.—The German Fleet Society, to which Emperor William and nearly all the Cabinet ministers, naval officers and others high in the Government service belong, has sent to its several members, through the society's monthly publication, a statement of the conditions which make necessary the building of more cruisers for service abroad, especially in central and southern American waters. The communication deals with German trade relations there. It does not contain the least trace of jingoism, but concludes with a carefully phrased paragraph, saying that "Germans must make up their minds whether the business already created shall be protected and extended, or permitted to languish. If the former alternative is accepted, the navy must be increased by sufficient cruisers adequately to protect trade."

Concerning the extent of German interests in Venezuela, the communication says they amount to an aggregate of $5,000,000 of which roughly speaking, $15,000,000 is invested in railroads and $12,500,000 to $15,000,000 in plantations and productive works. The remainder is engaged in trade and in the handling of German goods.

ILLINOIS CITIZENS COMPLAIN OF THE METHODS OF SHERIFF DUDLEY, OF SULLIVAN COUNTY.

Governor Asked to Act.

Sheriff Took "Jim" Dillard Without a Requisition, and the Negro Was Later Lynched in Indiana.

It is reported at the State House that Illinois may proceed against John S. Dudley, sheriff of Sullivan county, Indiana, on the charge of kidnapping. Dudley took James Dillard, the negro afterward lynched, from Illinois and returned him to Indiana without a requisition.

Dudley to-day filed a statement at the Governor's office setting out, from his standpoint, the arrest of Dillard and the precautions taken against lynching law.

There is also on file at the Governor's office a statement signed by citizens of Lawrenceville, Ill., which, it is said, related that Sheriff Dudley, when Dillard was turned over to him, promised to take him to Marshall and that Dillard would not have been surrendered without the promise.

The statement of citizens of Lawrenceville, which was volunteered, is said to be very damaging in that it goes to show Dudley had good reason for thinking a mob would be ready to take Dillard when the sheriff returned to Sullivan with him.

There's nothing so rare as a day in June. Surely nothing so rare as November. When it heralds with snow And bluster and blow The joy dead of December. Look out for a new winter!

The weather bureau sends an approaching cargo of frigidity from the land of the Doughbors. With it will come a generous supply of rain that will turn to snow to-night or to-morrow. Much colder weather is promised.

Iowa is being swept by a lively snowstorm to-day, and some of the beautiful ice machines are working overtime, as the thermometer is ranging from 8 to 13 degrees above zero in Mr. Bryan's State. Some of this frigidity may arrive in Indiana for a tour to-morrow.

THE CITIZENS' LEAGUE COUPON.

Many voters are sending in their names to the secretary of the Citizens' League. The objects of the league are stated as follows:

1. To secure the nomination and election of aggressively honest and capable men, irrespective of party affiliations, to all city, township and county offices.
2. To secure an efficient and thoroughly businesslike administration of municipal, township and county affairs.
3. To watch the conduct of public affairs by officials, with a view to making a public report on these matters.

It is not the purpose of the league to antagonize any party organization, but the league will, prior to elections, publish reliable information respecting all candidates.

All the information received by the league is to be furnished to the persons who send in their names. The names are not to be made public unless the person concerned wishes it so. The coupon for signature, to be mailed to George E. Hunt, Commercial Club, is as follows:

DOES NOT LIKE THE LEAGUE.

Harry B. Gates Fears It Would Make People Go Home at 7:30 P. M.

Harry B. Gates, Republican politician, thinks the Citizens' League movement will not cut much of a figure in the elections here. "The idea of the league trying to say how the city shall be run," said he, "why, if it were permitted to dictate, the curfew would ring here at 7:30, all the electric lights would be put out at 7:30, and the people would have to go home at that hour."

Gates says good citizens generally will "listen to reason" on anything when the right time comes, so he does not believe that the new movement will amount to much politically.

Novel Method of Settling a Tie Vote for Sheriff in Greene County.

A special election may not be held in Greene county, December 2, to break the tie vote between J. C. Huffman (Rep.) and A. F. Wilson (Dem.) for sheriff. Governor Durbin called a special election for that date, but Mr. Wilson, who was here to-day, said that a compromise has been reached whereby he will serve as sheriff one year, while Mr. Huffman will complete the term.

This is not a regular procedure, but Mr. Wilson said it is approved in Greene county on the ground that it will save the county a needless expense and the parties much trouble.

MOB FORMED AT IRONTON, OHIO

Attempted to Lynch Wm. Glascoe, but Was Foiled by the Sheriff and His Officers.

TAKEN TO PORTSMOUTH

Glascoe Admitted that He Assaulted Mary Maloney, Who is in a Serious Condition.

IRONTON, O., November 29.—Shortly before 3 o'clock this morning a mob attempted to take William Glascoe, the assailant of Mary Maloney, from the county jail, but was prevented by an extra force of officers and the sheriff. The mob was forming for an attack when Glascoe was spirited away in a carriage toward Portsmouth. Glascoe admitted assaulting Miss Maloney, and said it was done in revenge for her brother striking him. The girl is in a serious condition. Glascoe knocked her down by a blow on the head, but fled when her screams brought help. He was traced by bloodhounds.

DOGS DID GOOD WORK.

The work of the bloodhounds is considered the best on record. They arrived from Dayton yesterday noon, and at once followed the trail from the place of the assault in roundabout courses to the saloon where Glascoe had been arrested. They went over the course the second time, and then back to the scene of the assault, followed by thousands of enraged people threatening vengeance. After these scenes in the afternoon the streets were filled with people all night, and it was evident to the authorities that lynching was intended.

PICKED FIFTY LEADERS.

Finally the mob assembled at engine house No. 2, and selected fifty men as leaders in the general movement on the armory and jail. At the armory the leaders demanded the keys of Captain Thompson, who was in charge of the militia, so that they could secure rifles. On being refused, they opened fire with revolvers, and Captain Thompson narrowly escaped.

When the mob could do nothing at the armory, it moved on the jail. The sheriff refused the demand for the keys. Then the mob moved off to secure battering rams with which to break into the jail, and the sheriff at once spirited the prisoner out of the rear of the jail and escaped to Portsmouth. While the mob was about the jail Glascoe was wild with fright, and confessed all to the jailer. Leaders of the mob have threatened to go to Portsmouth.
